

THE POTTERS WHEEL WORLD SCHOOL

Summative Assessment - I

Subject: GK

Duration 1.5 hours

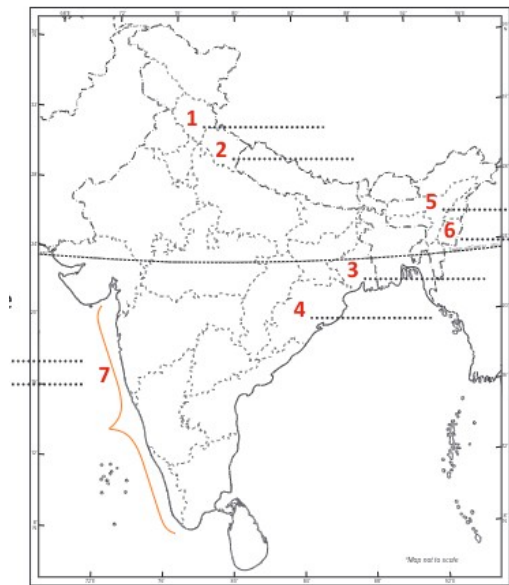

Class 5

Total : 50

Section A

1X7 = 7

In the vastness of India, you will find the highest mountains, the driest deserts, the fiercest cats, the calmest waters... Let us learn more about this beautiful green land of ours!

1. Established in 1984 to protect the wildlife (plant and animal) of the Western Himalayan region, the Great Himalayan National Park is found in this state.
.....
2. This beautiful area in Uttarakhand was 'discovered' and named by mountaineer Frank Smythe who was captivated by the amazing flowers here.
3. One of the largest deltas in the world, this mangrove forest is home to the fierce Bengal Tiger and the saltwater crocodile, among other species of animals.
.....
4. This salt-water lagoon on the coast of Odisha is the only place in India where the Irrawaddy dolphin is found.

5. Two-thirds of the world's population of the great one-horned rhinoceros lives in this beautiful national park located in Assam.
6. This lake in Manipur is the site of the world's only floating national park, situated on small islands of vegetation called phumdis.
7. This UNESCO World Heritage Site, running parallel to the coast of India, is one of the eight 'hottest hotspots' of biological diversity in the world.

Section B

1X8 = 8

When you cannot see or feel something, it is known as an abstract noun. Such as happiness or sadness. You know you are happy but you cannot touch your happiness. You can only feel it! We have collected some emojis (emotion symbols) and mixed up the feelings they are trying to show. Try to match them correctly.

1 	2 	3 	4
Abstract Nouns Laughter Anger Worry Fear Sleep Love Wonder Sadness
5 	6 	7 	8

Section C

1X5 = 5

You know that it takes energy to run, to dance, to eat, to do almost anything... Right? Have you read about the different forms of energy? Use the help box to answer the following questions.

1. Energy is often defined as the capacity to do
2. Wind turbines use the energy of wind to produce electricity.
3. The energy lost because of friction between two objects is released in the form of
4. The photovoltaic cells we see in solar panels harness the energy of the sun.

5. When a piece of coal burns, its energy transforms into heat.

Section D

2X9 = 18

India has a long coastline with as many as nine states touching a gulf or sea or ocean or bay! Read the corresponding clues and use the help box to find the states and their capitals.

1. This major coastal state has many important port cities, where ships come from all over the world. One of the them is Porbandar, the birthplace of Mahatma Gandhi.

State: Capital:

2. One of the most productive states of India, this has cities like Nagpur, Pune and its capital, which is the centre of the Hindi film industry.

State: Capital:

3. This is India's smallest state. Once under Portuguese rule, it is now a tourist hot spot, which people visit from all over the world.

State: Capital:

4. This state's capital is often called the Silicon Valley of India. The language most commonly spoke here is Kannada.

State: Capital:

5. Also called 'God's Own Country', this state is famous for its 'backwaters'. Among its cities is Calicut or Kozhikode, where explorer Vasco de Gama landed in India first.

State: Capital:

6. This state has several historic temples such as Meenakshi Amman Temple in Madurai. Its most popular festival, Pongal, is celebrated in January to thank the gods for a good harvest.

State: Capital:

7. This state, from which a new state of Telangana was taken out in 2014, has one of the longest coastlines in India. Visakhapatnam is a famous port city and the people usually speak Telugu.

State: Capital:

8. This state was once known as the kingdom of Kalinga, which was conquered by Ashoka the Great. Its beach city Puri is one of the most popular pilgrimage places in the country.

State: Capital:

9. This state is known for its sweetness. Its capital is known as the 'City of Joy' and has many sights to see, such as the grand Victoria Memorial.

State: Capital:

Section E

2X6 = 12

Water is the one of the most vital elements needed to support life, and as much as 70% of our Earth's surface is covered by it. There are many types of water bodies around us. Identify these types by their images and the partial names given as clues.

	1. Example of this type of water body: PACIFIC Type of water body:
	2. Example of this type of water body: AMAZON Type of water body:
	3. Example of this type of water body: SIACHEN Type of water body:
	4. Example of this type of water body: BAIKAL Type of water body:
	5. Example of this type of water body: SUEZ Type of water body:
	6. Example of this type of water body: KUTCH Type of water body:	